You are just supposed to make a name. No need to go to that page and make a new one, it won't work.

All you need to do is click on Advanced Game Listings and set up a name and password then click log in. You should get a message from Xwis, then you can log in.

If you aren't getting any servers, you should read what that message says before you close it. It will tell you why you don't see the servers.
