I've posted this on multiple boards now.

(Let me just start off by saying, in NO WAY do I mean that all people of a minority or like this, but a good portion of them)

Okay, you know, I have to be honest about something. Being a half black half asian man, I see a lot from both sides of my heritage saying the following:

1. White people are the opressors
2. White people are weaker physically
3. White people are stupider
4. White people are mean and cruel

Okay. I'm sorry. I'm just sick of this.

Nowadays, its slowly becoming the norm to look down on whites as blacks were about a hundred years ago.

I am so pissed off at the fact that the minorities in this country, and across the world in general, act as though white people are: "Weak, stupid, evil devils who just like to corrupt everyone".

I have some news for you. 75% of my friends are white. I've known some of them since I was in diapers. I am so pissed off at how people in general take liberties with whites and then act all hurt and sorrowful if anyone makes a joke or pokes fun at a minority.

I'm going to answer the previous list.

1. White people are the opressors: This is more what people of black heritage say. I have some news for you assholes, white people may have been opressing you about a hundred years ago, but guess what? If whites had never brought blacks over, through a course of events, NONE of the blacks that exist here today, would be alive. NONE OF YOU. Why? Because fate would have turned out differently. Also, let me ask you. Have you ever been to the great african soil? I have. And MOST of it (I'm not saying ALL of it is this way, north africa has some beautiful and peaceful areas) wasn't a very nice place. Instead of sitting over here and eating KFC, heres an idea, go back to your beautiful "non oppressive" country and lives with your brothers. Lets see how long you last with the crowds of angry rebel hordes

2. White people are weaker physically: Ahh! This. This is the one which I love most. The new fad in today's world is to make it seem as though not ONLY white people, but asians and south americans are weaker than blacks. Now I will give you, that asians as a group tend to be a lot shorter and develope muscle much more slowly. That being said, I have news for you: Whites, and many south americans DOMINATE SPORTS. Now, I can tell you something. It has been statistically proven that whites are not only taller on average than blacks, but uhm...I don't know how many of you watch the UFC or World's Strongest Man Competition...But if you haven't noticed...ITS 90% WHITE PEOPLE. Now I'll give you one thing, blacks seem to be extremely prone to basketball. This is not because they are necessarily naturally prone to being taller, this is because this is what many of the kids DO ALL DAY. They sit outside and play basketball. Thus, unlike whites, asians, south americans, etc. they practice a lot more, and thus, get more positions. The strongest people on earth come from places like Germany, Norway, etc. There are very good reason as to why blacks aren't in fighting/weight sports as much. They are naturally built to be somewhat tall and thin. Why? Because being short and fat, tall and fat, or extremely muscular isn't an advantage on the plains where you have lions and beasts ready to rip you apart. As a group, blacks tend to be on the taller side. They are, however, not taller than people from Germany or Norway. Just look up "Human Height" on wikipedia to reassure yourself.

3. White people are stupider: Almost EVERY SINGLE RACE that lives in america has a few douche bags that love to say this. People, don't make your own race look retarded by saying this crap. Notice: Freud, Pavlov, Bobby Fisher, Shakespear, Sir. Isaac Newton, James McDowell...All of these people were white. I'm not saying that whites are these humongously intelligent people that shadow everyone else, but puh-LEASE. All of the greatest literary and scientific people were yes....White.

4. White people are mean and cruel: I'm sorry. Have we forgotten already that many parts of africa is overridden with essentially, slavelords, taskmasters, and rebels? And the white people are the cruels ones? We all have our day in the sun. The mongolian empire was extremely cruel, the Aztecs were bloody and savage, the German Vikings were ruthless...Need I say more? EVERY RACE has its savage, cruel, and mean. Its called being human.

I'm not trying to say that whites are perfect, but I'm not saying anyone else is. Each and every race has their good and their bad. But you know what? Whites have accomplished more in science, literature, conquest, and furthering the human race more than ANY. OTHER. That TV you're watching, the computer screen you're reading this on, that philosophy book you're gazing at...White people had a hand in it. Just like blacks had a hand in working our farms and plantations, or the chinese had a hand in building our railroads, of the mexicans of today are helping to further our economy. We're all humans, we really aren't so different. I put a white kid and black kid together, I teach them the same thing and pound it into their heads, they'll both do well on the test (unless one has some horrible disability or is just plain stupid). I put a white man and a black man in the ring of equal size and stature. I wouldn't bet on either just because "their a black guy". Stereotypes are the worst thing that has ever happened to the world, and to be honest, it would be a lot better if we all thanked other races for what they've done to help, instead of increminate them for what they've done to hurt.
