Guessing from your sig you are/have been spending your time creating a roleplay mod for this game, and you really think you are in any position to call anyone retarded?

Hey let's run through this map, but no killing though; that's not what you are supposed to do in this game, right?

Have you ever actually played the map online? It's far from that.

I really hate when people lose sight of what games really are: Devices for having fun. If you're having FUN while you're doing it, mod it for better or for worse however you like, who cares? Games should be relieving stress, not adding it. Unfortunately, they seem to become a 2nd job these days >.>
