Sir PhoenixxSeth2k2xon the original westwood forums

If he had said that within the last year (There was like 40 pages, than the forums were cleaned and it went down to around 10) or so on the old forums it would still be on these forums. Remember, they transfered all of several of the forums to these forums a while ago.

And just because he was correcting grammar and spelling more harshly on the old forums, still doesn't equate to flaming.

you still havent replied to my other statment.

is it right for him to tell somone to go back to school and learn to read and write?
