If I was making a map with buildings in RenX then I could easily because I know how. Except I want to do this with LE instead. See what I mean?

You export the building in renx then drag it around to put it where you want.

What is the link to the ftp WW thing?

Just read renhelp for one time->

enc_ncy (the exterior for the CY) that is the multiplayer conyard

So the single player interiors would never fit -.-
