Again, if you get banned from a server, and think the people there are jackasses, good for you-Go find a server that isn't full of jackasses then. Good luck though, because in every place, there's a very high probability that you'll find atleast someone who doesn't like you, or someone you don't like.

Also, it's a good thing Wilo actually posted here- It shows that some of the st0rm server moderators/admins are capable of taking some responsibility. Even if there's some bad mods/admins, there usually is in every server.

Take EKTRPG for example. There's some there who like to use their admin powers a tad bit too much. Doesn't mean all of us do.
