Disregard anything else that's directed towards any other race, because no one cares.

Also, I lol at how it's racist to say "Nigger", yet it's perfectly fine to call a white man a "cracker". Either one, or the other- Disallow any racist remarks, or allow people to say anything they want. Last I checked though, America was found upon freedom- So it really bugs me that people in America shit a brick over stupid things like Imus saying "Nappy headed hoes" and whatnot. I guarentee you no one would give a shit if he called some white women the same thing.

I don't know what's more racist- Enslaving a race hundreds of years ago, or demanding special treatment because of it, hundreds of years after it happened.

Lmao.

Another funny incident, I don't remember people calling the Romans "racist" because they enslaved innumerable blacks and local italian-esk people to do their work. Oh but wait, they lived a long time ago so its okay for them.
Im learning latin and i have to study their culture to better understand their language, and the romans enslaved everyone even whites meaning early britans...... and other tribes and the people that they enslaved that were from africa were the persians, which they have waged war with all the latin empires and greek empires for ages back then, dont even go there.

Just FYI, the Romans never enslaved any group of people as a specific race like you said. I was just using the example of "enslaving people in general". The north european races were pretty tough, and not so easily taken over for slavery causes
