True, but the chaingun is also pretty much just an "Infantry-Exclusive" weapon. I can't remember ever taking down an Apache with one, however I can remember doing so innumerable times with a GDI Autorifle. Honestly, I think the GDI Autorifle is far underrated. Because of its high rate of fire (Isn't it the fastest next to the LCG?), as long as you get headshots, it can be better than a Laser Rifle or Tiberium Fletchette Gun (for infantry), and as long as you get close and know how to dodge, its effective against arty's and apaches, or any light armored vehicle.
