
Subject: Re: Banned for "aimbot" LMFAO
Posted by Blazer on Tue, 25 Mar 2008 23:03:05 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Starbuzz wrote on Tue, 25 March 2008 11:33he went and added me to the ban list in his server (SK-Gaming Marathon Server).

He obviously thought that you were cheating. It's not uncommon for server owners to ban (even pre-ban) "known cheaters".

Starbuzz wrote on Tue, 25 March 2008 11:33Not that I want to play there lmfaol

Yet you went there, and found yourself banned, which is exactly what he wanted. Why did you play right into his hand?

Starbuzz wrote on Tue, 25 March 2008 11:33I just found this moments ago when I tried to enter his server:

Again, if you knew you were banned, and also don't want to play there (as you said), why did you try to enter his server? Seeing you get "owned" by his ban probably made his day, you should have just stayed away

Starbuzz wrote on Tue, 25 March 2008 11:33NOTE: I looked for their forum but could not find it. Care to point me to it please?

...But you said you don't want to play there, so why bother? Sorry if it sounds like I'm nitpicking, but the obvious logic errors in your description of the event make my gears grind
