Second. My computer sucks ass. 40 GB HDD, 1 GB ram, and I have a custom video card to play bf2. I lag a bit on BF2 and I have the settings on fairly low.

Third. I get 30 to 40 fps on Reborn even with everything on.

Fourth. My vid card is an Nvidia Geforce 6800 GT from Biostar. My only complaint with it, is that it overheats if I play high graphics games too long because the fan sucks.

In conclusion. I have no idea what your problem is.

I wouldn't say a 6800 GT "sucks", especially for Reborn. My secondary PC has a 6800 GS AGP (same thing as the GT minus 4 pixel shaders and 1 vertex shaders, so mine is a tad bit weaker) and it plays Reborn absolutely fine with the game settings maxed, at 1600 x 1200 resolution, and also with 4x AA and 16x AF. About 95% of the time, it maxes out at 66FPS (my secondary PC's monitor's maximum for that resolution). It has 2GB of RAM as of now, but I tried it with 512MB and it made no difference. I don't know what CPU you have though.
