To get a view of your current fps(take note when you look at the display don't pay any attention to the sfps that should be 60-63 always and is based on the server's hardware) and ping etc, press F8 and type fps and press enter then a display should could up in the right upper corner a fps that does not lag a whole lot would be possibly 40-50, 30 at the least if it is lower than that you have a problem.
