going to be working tons of overtime, and will most likely ask to cash out some of my vacation hours, if not all.

need to make atleast 3-4k because i fucked up my car last week and now i need to get it fixed.

cant go through insurance since i got into an accident 5 years ago and only this year it goes off my record, which means cheaper insurance rates.

if i get my insurance to pay for the repairs on my car then it will be another 6 years before i will be paying reasonable rates.

sigh, yeah thats pretty much my summer.

unless some miracle happens
