The upper limit of how big textures can get (and how many you can have at once) is video-card dependent, renegade itself has no hardcoded limits that I have seen.

For best results on all video cards, use only square textures where the width and height are a power of 2.