

---

Subject: OT: Windows XP

Posted by Bearxor on Mon, 21 Jul 2003 21:08:21 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Not aware of any serious overheating issues on ol GF4MX cards, even the passively cooled ones.

If it was fixed when you took the side of your case off, my first glance would be the CPU. Put the side back on and try running it again for a while, and when your computer restarts, go into the BIOS and come back here and tell us what your CPU temp is.

---