

---

Subject: Re: Hud

Posted by DL60 on Wed, 07 May 2008 20:41:22 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

That's a matter of tolerance and opinion. I make the difference between such hardcore-cheats and that slight modifications.

PLZ I'm NOT a MMORPG player or a WOW expert but for example in WoW you can code your own macros/scripts which give you similar advantages. These players also have an advantage vs other pure players but no one calls that a cheat or unfair. It is completely normal.

Of course there are also macros or scripts or whatever which are called a cheat or unfair but the point is that they decide or make a difference which advantage is fair and which is unfair (and is called a cheat).

Why not in renegade too?

A cheat for me is something hardcore: wallhack, aimbot, speedhack, firerate which gives an unfair and very overpowered advantage.

This buildingbars don't give you such a overpowered hardcore advantage. They don't let you aim better, do more damage or something like that.

That's my opinion - hope you got now my point of view.

---