luv2pb wrote on Wed, 07 May 2008 15:28 That depends. It has also happened to me, while I don't think I was doing an idiotic thing. Exemple: orca is red and you step out to give it a quick rep to fall back. U then get sniped -> headshot. You loose your orca but is it because you're a n00b or because you got unlucky?

Same if you fly in, for exemple on Walls Fly, behind the ref; noone is around. You go in the ref and put c4 on it. The time you place your timed and remotes, someone gets in your orca. You loose it but you kill the ref. Are you a n00b? Don't think so.

Ofcourse there's like 20 different n00bish ways to loose an orca as well. I won't argue that.

I don't think the moderator was right. If you give people a n00b, then you must also accept it when they n00b you back. It's different when someone goes on a !rec or !n00b fest, giving them out to 10 people in one minute.

I don't get what the big deal is, though. !rec and !n00bs aren't exactly the most important feature in the game. Sure, it's nice to be recommended from time to time.

So my personal opinion: !recallow the guy again, he has been "punished" for long enough.

couldn't have said it any better.
And that guy sudakar or something. Dude plzzz be quiet.

Now back to the case. If this topic stays open, its great for me.
i only suggested to close it coz of all the reply's like:
WHO GIVES Fuck, and shit like that now...im on another computer..trying to register but i get the same message. So im guessing the only way is a realy really reallyyy unique name.

i tried all sorts of nicknames witch think were all unique butt still didn't work.

I can do 2 things. 1.Wait for that mod to show up in that server.
2.keep trying to register

And let me clear this up. The ORCA'S health was low , so i got out at the WF to get myself a hotwire. I did this in like 4 secs.
If a vehicle gets stolen witin 4 seconds means the person(sbh) was very nearby or just waiting for a vehicle to "pop out" now it wasn't like i placed my orca at the wf, and walked to the power plant or something. So for me to get n00bed about something that would've happened to anybody who got out of their vehicle at that place is ridiculous.

1. Did the stolen orca make a big difference in the game?....no
 2. did the stolen orca survive till the end of the game?.....no (got destroyed not 5 min later)
 3. Did we loose the game?.....no
- as a matter of fact i was MVP by killing a nod building and gathering points with a med tank.
