You enter a debate with the 'they are all wrong, and I am not' thought, instead of 'lemme show them my arguments, and listen to theirs'. People who think that they are ALWAYS right about EVERYTHING they post, are called cocky people. In your case, cocky dicktator.

How absolutely unpredictable!

Thanks for demonstrating unequivocally that most of what you originally said was a pack of lies, and you can't refute anything *I* said in response calling you out on it.

Thanks also for proving me right when I point out that the "LOL SPOONY NEVER LOSES DEBATES DO YOU SPOONY?" bullshit is what people like you say WHEN THEY LOSE AN ARGUMENT AND CAN'T BRING THEMSELVES TO EITHER ADMIT IT OR JUST BE QUIET. Good job, dude. I pointed out this fact right before you very helpfully proved it for everybody. If this is the general thrust of this thread, I've got some other points you could prove for me as well?

TD wrote on Wed, 14 May 2008 08:15 Have fun spending another half an hour trying to prove something that 99% here don't even care about and that 90% of the renegaders at clanwars.cc know you're just trying to win an online debate and do anything for it.

Is there no end to your dishonesty? If you had paid attention to my post (a rather futile hope, I admit), you'd have finally grasped the fact that YOU, not me, are the one who simply can't bring himself to realise he's wrong and let it go. It's right there in front of you and obvious to any objective observer.

As for "you'll do anything to win an online debate"... well, considering the fact you've just been caught lying to everyone here, the majority of whom aren't involved with the tournament or even the league, that's another shining example of how truly confused you are.
