The Executor wrote on Wed, 07 May 2008 14:49: Great ^^ Just come try and talk to me when you are 16 and you are blind because your eyes have been burned out from looking at a computer screen all your life instead of being outside and doing healthy stuff. OMG a blind bat at the age 20 and as fat as a pig because you can't move your ass away from the computer screen, it is just all sick. Being outside is good for you plus it is healthy. At such a young age your brain is still developing and growing and you are hurting it by sitting there and at the computer.

I hope you get cancer.
