

---

Subject: Re: Windows vs Mac

Posted by Veyrdite on Sun, 06 Jul 2008 04:53:53 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

If you house-keep and never use IE you should be able to steer-clear of Malware.

Before you go out and buy a Mac, just download and try Linux. You can run versions such as Ubuntu right off a disc without installing anything on your computer.

Why? Because Mac's kernel is similar to that of some Linux distros and they basically feel the same to use (apart from the colour scheme)

(Opinion)

Macintosh are trying to make people think there are two types of computer, the "superior" Mac and the "ordinary" computer (Windows).

They exploit every glitch of their competitor in their adds trying to convince people to buy a Mac, when really the product are just as unstable as XP. Trust me, I have one downstairs.

EDIT: Typing sentences without correct spelling in more than a quarter of the words also causes the NT kernel to lock-up.

---