I think I found it....what was happening was that I had installed the FDS to one location but I had to move the FDS folder for some reason, and so the FDS kept writing to the old location, not the new one, which is why BRenbot couldn't find the files...

I'll have to check it out tomorrow and make sure it works. Anyway, thanks for you're help, and I'll let you know later if it worked.
