Let me ask you this, how much are you willing to spend? I need to know what games you are planning to play. Do you want a card for now or for a few years down the road? If you're short on cash, get the GF4 Ti4200. It's around $100. For cost/performance, you're better off with the 9500pro, but ATI has stop making them so you gotta hurry. If not, maybe the 9600pro. Don't bother with anything less than these, they're not fast enough now, and will be a waste for future games.
