Quote: Is this the real world where my words actually fucking matter? Absolutely not. This is where you go in the wrong. It's not because it's written on an Internet forum that it doesn't matter. Otherwise, you should allow all neonazi and terrorist websites as well: what they write down "doesn't matter" anyway. And that's exactly why I wrote what I wrote above.

Behind these nicknames and avatars, we have people that should earn respect as much here as they do out of the Internet. If you disagree with someone's ideas, then you're free to out this disagreement but do it in an objective, logical way.
