Hello Team, my first post. I got the Ren CD but it is not the original one that i used to have a few years back. I bought a original one from a licensed EA company...but on the cover is the licnesed company logo..and the cd's is like blue in color Is there a way to know if it is first decade or last...

And is there a difference in the way I do the 9 step install with either one...either first or last decade? Is there such a thing as first and last decade? Do i still have to install all patches for both??

THank You...If it is of any I have Vista with SP1
