The first post on this page by J_Reborn shows how you are linked to cheating, how you cheated, and how many times you were red flagged.

*Note* To those of you whose browsers can't handle a lot of text, don't click the link.

But let's say for a moment that you didn't cheat in Reborn. It doesn't mean you are off the hook as you obviously forgot about the entire situation with your cousin. Your cousin is now being given a second chance because he came clean about learning about the cheats from you.

This would not of happened if you had kept your word about not cheating anymore. People who don't cheat don't even have cheats on their computer. So how would your cousin of gotten the idea from you if you are as clean as you say you are? You obviously own cheats, so you are obviously lying.
