Subject: Re: Windows Service's
Posted by Dave Anderson on Sun, 27 Jul 2008 04:57:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

It depends on what software you have installed, because you may have software that uses services that it needs to run. You really aren't going to gain any performance from disabling Microsoft services. Useless user services drain performance, and at startup user startup items.