If he's that annoying, ignore him. Seriously, ignoring people works wonders. I've been ignoring madrackz and renalpha for a while.

If enough people stop responding to his incessant idiocy, he'll either leave on his own or he'll become a more respectable member of the forums. Either way, it's a win-win situation for all. I'm 13.

Honestly, that's messed up logic. Why "Lets not ban someone, because we've never banned anyone for the same reason before!"

Think about it, he WAS banned before here.
