nikki6ixx wrote on Mon, 28 July 2008 22:33 I'm bumping this because I never got around to buying a new player. I'm one of those morons who sits on the fence waiting for something newer and better.

Anyhow, I'm to headed to the States for a day to do some shopping this week so I'll pick one up then. Just wondering if there were any more opinions/suggestions.

wow! I am in exactly the same position! My dad gave me a Sansa c150 for Christmas in 2006! And I still have it and it works great but the battery cover hinge broke and I have a rubberband around it lol...

I would like to have a new mp3 player as well but I am very allergic to expensive stuff and I dislike rechargeable stuff....

Where you are coming to States?
