Yeah, and then see what else they offer. They might suggest something totally interesting that you may have never thought of.

Also, make sure they tell you what you need for entrance, like Grade Point Average, test scores, etc.

They'll ask you questions too, and make sure you ask them whatever comes to your mind. You'd be surprised at how much you can learn from one appointment. At the end, ask for brochures, pamphlets, anything to do with the school, and the courses you are interested in.

If you can, bring a parent with you, because they may have questions too.
