Someone please justify how it is fair that a new player join, does not know about these exploits, but yet, everyone else is using them? That seems at most unfair. This leading to it being unfair while it is unfixed.

It being fixed is fair all the way across the board, all new players, all the experienced are equal now for using this method. Maybe the new people see another healing in the middle of nowhere (side of building) and say this is bs, then drop the game cause 'everyone is cheating'.
