I think it should be fixed, it's a glitch and needs to be fixed, it's not our fault. People learned to play using this glitch, I mean you might as well let them hack or glitch kill...yes it will change game play a little bit, make it harder, but that's the way it should be. Game play will change for BOTH teams, so do say it will ruin your team work, etc, etc, fix it....if you guys really want to keep it, you can do it server side easily, but you CANNOT fix it server side only. People who really want this to stay are hackers and clans, because clans are the only group of people who play the game the same way every single map (same strategies, same gameplay, etc) while marathons and etc do whatever they want where outside PT really is not needed. You know how sick I am of people refilling outside....and here's another thing, every single clan member or clan loves the glitches...they want wall hug, outside PT, glitch kill, wall hug...every clan member I've talked to wants all the glitches they use to win the game...the list goes on, so of course they want outside PT to be there, but they want most glitches to be there, well to bad, it's a glitch and anyone with real skill should get it fixed if they want outside PT..set up an old school ren clan channel without the update or do it server side if possible....
