Yes. He did teach it. Look at his voting record. Does it follow what the constitution allows? No. Clearly he doesn't understand what he taught. I'm sure he could recite the words of the document to you in a song, but he doesn't put into action what he believes.

A politician can talk sunshine up my ass all day long. But when he actually backs up his mouth-blown sunshine in my ass with actions, that's the day I will start taking him as anything more than a fake and a fraud.

Peace out,
