also I'm not the one complaining about stealth being visable, I RARELY use it.
Other players on a number of servers swear up and down that they are visable to gdi "somehow?"
When that dose happens to me I figure i bumped the mouse or something, who knows?

As for that tactic in question, keep in mind this is the same server where people have been known to jump out of orcas and copters into the smoke stack of the PP to place becons!!!!!
