RA3 continues the storyline and has some of the same characters from RA2 like Tanya, Einstein and some others. What I am saying is that some actors brought in to fill the roles of these RA universe characters are not fulfilling.

Well the Red Alert universe revolves around the use of a Time machine. The only character that really remains consistent throughout the entire series is Einstein. Tanya isn't a specific person. She is just a special agent code-named Tanya. That's why it makes sense for her to be played by a different actor.

Over all, I think the cast is excellent. And from what I saw in the FMV trailer, they are going to be very high quality videos.
