However, since the arguments in this topic do lead towards the PT glitch being fixed, and if the people at EA or w.e. do decide to fix it, then i still believe that the server owners shud have an option as to whether or not they will have this pt glitch on or off due to the fact the votes are equal.

You should at least read the first post before posting. It has always been said that it would be optional, we were just voting for which one would be standard.
