Also, I find it hilarious how you criticize someone for apparently being wrong about something, yet you don't have the balls to argue on your own behalf.

Lastly, as I said, you generally need a headshot with the shotgun. I dunno, maybe I should have used the remington more, but the SPAS-12 sure as hell sucked more balls than it should have. Unless they recently introduced a new shotgun, both sucked as far as I know. M950 Military or whatever got unlocked. I haven't tried it. Apparently has way more damage than the Spas, though.
