

---

Subject: Re: Sync Video 4

Posted by Oblivion165 on Sun, 28 Sep 2008 10:46:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

VLC player would be choice in this situation but VLC's OCX is a big pile of crap wrapped in a tortilla right next to EA. I was hoping to use VLC so that people wouldn't have to have codecs etc but the thing just wants to crash, not take commands and sure as hell doesn't want to give me back any information like current play position or play mode

Hell if they would fix the OCX, I could even stream video over the internet to clients and they wouldn't have to have the file.

---