Your ignorance continues to astound me. Immediately following 9/11, a French newspaper declared, "We are all Americans." There was a worldwide consensus in favor of American military action. You're a fucking goddamn retard if you think Gore wouldn't have done the same thing as Bush (at least as far as AFGHANISTAN IS CONCERNED!)

It wasn't until Bush's unilateral invasion of Iraq, a war which was founded on entirely incorrect precepts, that world opinion turned against us.

Oh, and apparently you're not aware that the neocons CRITICIZED Bill Clinton for "wasting his time" trying to hunt down bin Laden during his administration. Once 9/11 happened, those same hypocrites turned around and criticized him for "not doing ENOUGH" to hunt him down.

Would you fucking get a grip on reality?
