Don't worry the new design will be simple, it shouldn't give you any problems.

When users post tutorials on RenHelp.NET, it will also post a automated topic in the forum that we linking them too, also new tutorials will update the "news" page.

What takes yo 20 minutes to load, this forum?
No your forums.

And are you going to put the old Tut's that are already on Renhelp.net?

Are you going to keep the domain Renhelp.net or is it going to change?

Also is there gonna be like an auto registered on your forum's like say someone register on Renhelp.net or even the ones that are on there are they going to have to reregister on your forums to talk about there Tut they put up.
