
Subject: Re: McCain's gonna win
Posted by nikki6ixx on Thu, 30 Oct 2008 00:42:26 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Muad Dib15 wrote on Wed, 29 October 2008 14:34 bottom up??!! WTF?? The economy has always improved from the top down, not from the bottom up. Less than a quarter million huh? see above ^^

Unfortunately, trickle-down economics is not working as well as its proponents have said it would. You only need to see the reports the GAO have published that have concluded,

Quote:that more than 40 percent of very large corporations doing business in the United States--those with assets of $250 million or more--either paid no income taxes or paid income taxes of less than $100,000. This was true of both foreign- and U.S.-controlled corporations.<http://www.gao.gov/products/GGD-93-112FS>

I'm no fan of Obama, but unfortunately, his economic policy is more sound for these times than McCain's. The other thing is that people are crying that Obama is a socialist, but for the most part, his taxes would be essentially equal to what America had while Clinton was in office, and if I recall correctly, America was not singing the Soviet Anthem during the '90's.
