

---

Subject: Re: McCain's gonna win

Posted by Dave Anderson on Fri, 31 Oct 2008 02:17:58 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Quote:Fuck McCain we need a Democratic look how bad George Bush fucked us over and McCain agreed 90% of what Bush did WTF is that

Quote:McCain's sided with Bush on pretty much everything, and these past eight years have been a disaster to the U.S economy and public image.

And before the Bush administration there was the Clinton administration, and before that.. Do you see the pattern here? Frankly it is very ignorant to blame the problems of America on the president. The president is one person, whom actually has limited authoritative power without consent. Everyone thinks that someone else can do a better job. Everyone thinks that they themselves can do a better job. The reality of it is that no one really can, because you can't please the entire nation, ever. It doesn't even matter which party gets the presidency, it's going to be the same thing for the rest of our lives: "The 'X' administration doesn't know what they're doing, we need change! And new people! And he/she/it can do it better!" Whoever gets the presidency does what they think is right, to the best of their ability. The presidency will never please its nation because unfortunately we are all human, and we all have opinions, views, and by human nature "so and so can do it better".

---