SpoonyI know all this; you haven't answered my question. What was this garbage about "focusing on keeping Christians in office"?

In America, that's not "garbage", it's the sad truth. People got pissed off when a judge was forced to remove a large statue of the 10 Commandments from his courthouse...

SpoonyIf you show me someone who claims they live their life by a book as morally despicable as the Qu'ran or the Bible, someone who thinks there's something good about the prospect of armageddon, and inform me that there's a chance they'll be in charge... I personally think "issue" is too mild a word. "Emergency" is better imho

You didn't actually think people use common sense, did you? That's just 5 incredible fundamentalist morons that I've encountered. I know there's many more just on deviantART alone.
