

---

Subject: Re: Why did you vote for Obama?

Posted by cheesesoda on Wed, 03 Dec 2008 19:58:18 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

As you said, the person is going to make a choice, faith or country. Even if they chose to run for office with faith in mind, their stance on issues is still what's important and not the faith. If they are going to follow their faith, their stance on the issues will show it.

The only thing looking at their faith does is give you the chance to assume what their stance on issues may be. However, that may not prove to be accurate.

---