Westwood is gone, get over it.

EA is the ONLY company that I will personally accept for handling the C&C series. They know the most about it and how it's current fans are. Not to mention have the experience of 3 entire games (Which, by the way, have gotten exponentially better than the last. RA3 10x > C&C3 20x > Generals)

And of all companies, Petro would be the WORST one to give rights of the C&C universe to.
