

---

Subject: Re: Why did you vote for Obama?

Posted by Dover on Tue, 09 Dec 2008 23:16:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Which means that there is no federal law stating anything like "Your kid HAS to go to schools in his district". If there were, it would override anything in California that says "Nuh-uh!". If such a law exists in your state, take it up with your state government, and leave Obama out of it.

Education tends to be a state issue anyway. I don't know how this shit even got brought up.

---