Clients need an up to date scripts.dll for the musica command to work. You could try using the jukebox plugin from new.brenbot.com, it adds an automatic jukebox to BRenBot which continually plays all the available music tracks in Renegade. You can configure it to only play certain tracks via the config options, and you can set the default state to on or off (clients can type !music on or !music off to toggle it on or off for themselves)
