Hi, ok, first of all, if your in a Stank you obviously can't snipe, and secondly, I think that if you weren't in a Stank you be more stealthy, someone is bound to notice a Stank appearing then disappearing and that would draw attention and give your position away, while if your just a sniper, then they PROBABLY won't notice where you are, especially if you have a good snipe location not to mention they'll be running around trying to disarm the nuke.
