Alright, I've made a few changes. There is now a new formula for the advanced version AND the extreme version is released! If you view the history page you can see the old formula for the advanced version.

I will be changing the formulas on the first of every month(I changed it a little early for January because I might not be mobile until the 2nd).

I've also added an administration area to monitor winners. I can track the rolls and guesses that were made to make sure there aren't any cheaters. The extreme version isn't as challenging as I would like it to be. It might get a new formula.
