TaximesYanol love thinking about time travel(its good exercise for the brain ) I don't think its possible, if time travel was some thing that could be done, why haven't we been bombarded w/ "tourists" from the future? And if time travel was possible(its not ) you could NOT meet yourself, you can't be in two places at once.

I could give several reasons:

1. If you can change the past: Time machines would not be open to the public. If you could change the past, time machines would have to be VERY strictly regulated, imagine what horrors could be done.
2. If you can't change the past: It's obvious, then, why we haven't seen toursits: because us seeing them would change the past.

Thats true. I always said if time travel ever did exist, we would have to set some boundries or some kind of time laws to make sure nothing affects the future.

linkin90I was talking to my friend about this and I now believe there is no such thing as time travel. He simply said "there is no such thing because if there were people from the future would have traveled back into our time by now". That makes perfect sense and makes me believe there is no time travel. Unless your theory of multiple parallel universes is true, with the fact that we are the first of the multiple universes and there are no future universes at this time but that makes no sense.

Hey I always say, ANYTHING is possible. All it takes is time and patience.
