i loved RA1 i played the hell out of it. one funny thing i did was to build as many infantry as i could. then you put them all in a giant square. next you nuke them right in the middle of the formation. if done right you'll get an initial "heh" or whatever the troop says when he dies. you'll then rapidly get a "heh" from all the remaining troops that will last for about 15 seconds. you can also try the same thing but with a nuke truck (or nuke trucks causing a chain explosion) in the middle of them.
