It's a custom modified version of hourglass. It's not like everyone in Renegade will have it for their version of the map when he is finished with it.

So the "younger players" you mentioned wont even know that it exists in the first place, even if it is released to the public.

He can make or mod anything he wants to, as it's his own drive to be creative. The fact that anyone else manages to get their hands on it is irrelevant.
